Bennett Will Retire to New Home in England

Ex-Prime Minister Probably Will Not Sit in Commons Again

Has Bought House

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett has purchased a home in England and probably will not be seen again in the Canadian House of Commons, it was learned today. Mr. Bennett returned to Ottawa yesterday from a three-month trip to England.

As vigorous and spirited after his holiday as he has been in years, Mr. Bennett declined to comment on domestic Canadian issues of the moment. His home now, he said, was in England. "I have packed up, you might say," he added.

Canada's former Prime Minister, who has been a member of the House of Commons since 1911, explained simply that he had bought a home in Surrey, about 20 miles south of London, and would proceed there as soon as he received word from the architects working on it.

Although he would not be directly quoted as to whether he would occupy his seat in the House of Commons during the forthcoming session, it was gathered he would not be seen again there.

TO VOYAGE SOON

Mr. Bennett said he expected to visit Calgary, his constituency and former home, "shortly," but it was unlikely he would remain in Canada for long.

By that time, he indicated, he might be back in England, to stay.

The 68-year-old former Prime Minister did not wish to pass an opinion on the trade agreements just completed between Canada and the United States and between the United Kingdom and the United States. He had not had an opportunity to read the agreements in detail, but it would not be easy to appraise agreements which were so extensive. Their value, he said, would be determined only by how they operated in the light of experience.

RUSSIA TO BUILD BIG BATTLESHIPS

Notifies Britain She Will Construct Vessels of 45,000 Tons

LONDON (CP)—Soviet Russia has advised the British government she plans to build 45,000-ton battleships because of Japanese construction of heavier vessels, it was learned today.

Although this decision, according to the Soviet communication, affects in principle only Russia's Far Eastern fleet, it was feared in some quarters here Germany and Italy, and then France, may follow suit. Thus the Soviet move may mean the beginning of a new European naval rearmament race.

Great Britain was notified of the decision under the Anglo-Soviet naval pact of July 17, 1937, which, like the London Naval Treaty of March 25, 1936, set the top limit for capital ships at 35,000 tons.

VICTORIA, 5 a.m. today—Pressure remains abnormally high in the Far North and also off the Vancouver Island coast. The weather has been fair and cold in nearly all parts of British Columbia. Scattered snow flurries have occurred in the prairie provinces, where temperature remains quite low.

Godowsky, Great Pianist, Dies Soon After Operation

Artist Known in New And Old Worlds Succumbs in New York

Played in Victoria

NEW YORK (AP)—Leopold Godowsky, 68, one of the great pianists of his generation, died today in the Lenox Hill Hospital, where he had undergone an operation last Wednesday.

LATE L. GODOWSKY

Godowsky was a child prodigy whose reputation increased with his years. He was born in Vilna, Poland, in 1870. He studied at the Berlin Hochschule and later under Camille Saint-Saens, the great French pianist and composer.

In his maturity, Godowsky was considered one of the greatest technicians in piano history. He also was a composer of note, a wit, and the friend of nearly all the important musicians of the world. His New York apartment was a centre around which much of the city's music life turned.

Leopold Godowsky gave performances in Victoria at three different times within the last two decades. On his last appearance in February of 1922, Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green, one of his pupils, played several selections with him.

Charge Pretender Received Money

VIENNA (AP)—Criminal police yesterday announced discovery of "large scale embezzlements" through which they charged Archduke Otto of Hapsburg received 20,000 schillings ($4,000) monthly from the government of former Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg.

The police asserted the cash was sent to Archduke Otto, pretender to the non-existent throne of Austria now living in Belgium, through the Netherlands Bank, which, in turn, deposited it in the Brussels Bank.

Jewish Refugees Call Here

Sail From Victoria to Seek New Home in Antipodes

Three hundred Jews, fleeing from persecution in Germany, will arrive in Victoria on Wednesday, en route to Australia and New Zealand to find new homes, Rabbi Marcus Berner of Victoria said today.

The refugees are at present in Vancouver. They left England on November 12. Between the time they arrive here Wednesday afternoon, from Vancouver, to between 5 and 6 in the evening, when the Ms. Aorangi sails they will be guests of local Jewish people.

During the last six weeks, 130 Jews from Germany have passed through Victoria on their way to Australia. The first group of 70 Jews were here six weeks ago, and a second party of 60 were here three weeks ago.

With regard to the requests from all parts of Canada that the Dominion's doors be thrown open to refugees, the Jewish population of Victoria has not, as yet, made any appeal. A service during which prayers will be offered for the sufferers will be held here next Sunday, Rabbi Berner said.

NANAIMO WOMEN JOIN PICKET LINE

Seek to Prevent Shipment of Scrap Iron Cargo to Japan

NANAIMO (CP)—Women with placards joined 25 volunteer pickets outside a scrap iron yard here today to prevent what they termed the shipment of "war material" to Japan.

Members of the Women's Labor League, they paced the sidewalk alongside 25 men urging an embargo against shipment of the iron from Nanaimo.

The picket line, formed by members of Nanaimo and district labor organizations, resumed its march today when reports circulated that truck drivers from Vancouver might be imported to move the metal to a Vancouver-bound barge.

Saturday nearly a dozen pickets disbanded, when three truck drivers assured them they would not attempt to haul the metal, totaling 500 tons.

The metal is owned by N. Adirim of Vancouver, who claims he will lose $7,000 if the iron is not delivered on time.

George Les Strange, organizer of a meeting here Friday at which the first protest was made, announced today that a committee to handle the picketing was complete. He added that if necessary mass picketing could be organized.

Strange said the committee had made arrangements for food supplies and refreshments for the picketers. He added a publicity committee had been appointed and hall accommodation obtained.

Sunday a meeting of the United Mine Workers of America unanimously endorsed the picketing.

Strange said the men intended to keep a 24-hour picket on the yards, just outside the city limits.

Warship to Carry Body of Queen

Remains of Maud Of Norway To Be Taken From London

LONDON (AP)—Norway and Great Britain today mourned the death of Norway's Queen Maud. She died in a London nursing home early Sunday of a heart attack four days after an abdominal operation. She was 68 years old.

Aunt of King George VI and last surviving child of Edward VII, her death came so suddenly that only a nurse was at her bedside.

King Haakon of Norway was at Buckingham Palace, where he has been staying since the queen's grave illness brought him hurrying from Oslo.

The queen died 13 years to the day after her mother, Queen Alexandra.

The body today lay in state in the chapel of Marlborough House, and Wednesday will be placed aboard a British battleship to be escorted by four destroyers to Norway.

Many landed here by steamship Saturday night on their way to Australia and New Zealand, where they seek new homes.

The refugees, some with money and some almost penniless, got aboard a train here for Vancouver. Tonight they sped toward the west coast, where they were to embark on a liner for the Antipodes.

Businessmen, lawyers and doctors, with their wives and families, made up most of the group. When reporters questioned them, they made it clear they wanted to remain anonymous.

"Do not mention their names," one pleaded. "There are others at home who might suffer."

An old Jewish barrister said, "God knows what will happen to our people. We are lost in Germany."

One man who had been manager of a big department store said the store windows had been smashed and the sidewalk before it was painted with insults to the Jews. The Nazi Party had forced the shareholders to discharge him.

Some of them said they had been in concentration camps. But they did not want to talk much about that.

Homes in Africa Proposed for Jews From Reich

Britain Explores Tanganyika and Kenya for Refugees

Others to Guiana

By J. F. ANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—Large scale emigration of German Jews to three British colonies may result from surveys to be undertaken, Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

In British Guiana a block of land 10,000 miles square will be inspected for its possibilities, the Prime Minister disclosed, while in Tanganyika and Kenya individual settlement schemes will be attempted.

British Guiana is in the north of South America. Tanganyika formerly was German East Africa. Kenya lies to the north of Tanganyika and south of Ethiopia.

Mr. Chamberlain said the government would invite volunteer organizations to send their own representatives to British Guiana, which has an area of 89,480 square miles, to make surveys on the spot.

"Provided the results of these surveys are satisfactory, the government contemplates the lease of large areas of land on generous terms under conditions to be settled hereafter," he announced.

EAST AFRICA

The governor of Tanganyika, Mr. Gurney, said today he had asked to say whether land could be made available for leasing on generous terms "for the purpose of large-scale settlements to voluntary organizations concerned with refugees, provided they undertake full responsibility of preparing the land and of settling refugees of suitable types as land is made available."

"The governor of Tanganyika has replied expressing his readiness to co-operate in any schemes of settlement of refugees as far as existing obligations will permit."

"The governor has expressed the view that the only suitable areas for large-scale settlement are likely to be found in the southern highlands and in part of the western province."

Mr. Chamberlain ignored German press agitation against the settlement of Jews in the former German East Africa. He said the government there would welcome a mission from refugee organizations for the purpose of inspecting areas which might be available for settlement. These he estimated at about 50,000 acres.

"In addition a scheme of small-scale settlements up to a total of 200 settlers is being considered," he said.

SMALL SETTLEMENTS

He added that replies from the governors of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland protectorate, British territories on southeastern Africa, indicated small-scale settlement of Jewish refugees might be possible there.

Replying to a question, Mr. Chamberlain said he could not speak for the Dominions on the matter of homes for refugees.

Health Schemes in Towns Proposed

Legislation which would permit municipal councils to set up medical aid schemes on a compulsory contribution basis was discussed before the municipal committee of the Legislature today.

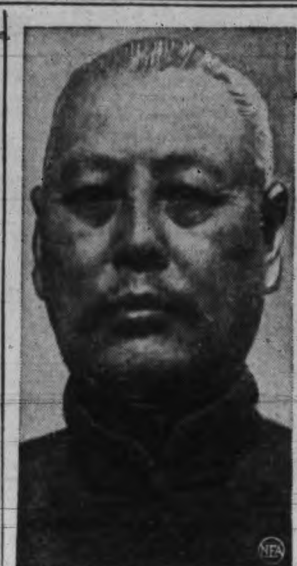

George Cruickshank, reeve of Matsqui, sponsored the proposal. He had intended to confine it to Matsqui, which wants to enlarge a scheme that it has had for six years to give medical service to unemployed.

He said it would work out so that for a contribution of from $10 to $12 a year a family could receive treatment except for maternity service or specialist service.

Committee members considered the proposal favorably but reserved final decision.

City Franchise Before House

Greater Victoria Commission Suggested By Alderman Crone

Heads of Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, with their legal advisers, appeared before the municipal committee of the Legislature today to ask for enabling legislation that will permit them to join in granting a transportation franchise when the street cars cease operating.

The committee was informed the municipalities have agreed in principle to the bill, but pending a draft of some technical points final action was not taken. Alderman Fred Crone of Vancouver suggested the problem could be met best by a Greater Victoria commission.

"This represents a very important question for Victoria and the surrounding municipalities," said H. S. Pringle in submitting the plan. He outlined the franchise situation.

"The city," he said, "is naturally limited to dealing with a franchise within its own borders, but the outside municipalities have become an integral part of the community, especially in transportation matters."

"If the city cannot get unanimity with the outside districts it will have to take action itself and let them handle their own problem. But it was felt desirable that all parties should join in the franchise. If one municipality turned it down, the others could go ahead by themselves."

Herbert Anson, Conservative, Victoria, suggested it might be better to make the franchise clause mandatory instead of permissive. This would force any dissenting municipality to accept a scheme approved by the others.

E. H. Bridgman, deputy minister of municipal affairs, said it could not be made mandatory as the franchise would be subject to approval of a three-fifths majority vote of ratepayers in each district.

Mrs. Paul Smith, Liberal, Burrard, thought the vote should be open to all householders instead of just to property owners, because all were affected by the transportation services.

The bill provides that any agreement reached must be ratified by the government.

Reeve R. R. Taylor, Oak Bay, said he did not think the mandatory clause necessary.

Supposing the city, Saanich and Esquimalt arrange a franchise and Oak Bay voters turn it down. Within six months they'll change their minds, because they'll have to walk," he said.

Mayor Andrew McGavin said the whole scheme was to help out the municipalities. The city could go ahead on its own now and arrange a franchise.

R. F. Sewell, Saanich municipal clerk, explained that Saanich has a franchise now that runs another 11 years. But because it has a dead haul through the city the rates for outside people may be higher than if it were on a joint basis.

Alderman Fred Crone then made his commission proposal. "While this committee tries to accept the views of municipal councils on matters here," he said, "I think transportation comes under the head of general

2,000 Lose Lives As Fire Sweeps Changsha, China

Officials Executed for Error While Japanese Troops 40 Miles Away

City Lies in Ruins

SHANGHAI (AP)—A five-day fire which razed Changsha, capital of Hunan province, was reported Monday to have caused 2,000 deaths and brought the execution of three Chinese officials accused of starting the conflagration.

Commencing last Sunday, the fires, started in anticipation of the city's capture by a slowly advancing Japanese column, reduced Changsha to ruins.

Chinese officials at Chungking, the temporary capital, declared the fires started both accidentally and through the "premature zeal" of local authorities anxious to carry out China's "scorched earth" policy of leaving little of value to the invaders.

GENERAL SHOT

Changsha dispatches said three men had been executed for their part in the fires—Gen. Feng Ti, garrison commander, and the chief of police and the commander of the local guards at the provincial capital.

The Japanese still were 40 miles north of the city, and Chinese army commanders reported Japanese attacks had been repulsed along the Yochow-Changsha railway.

At the same time Chinese said they had recaptured Thungyang, 50 miles south of Hankow. They asserted 500 Japanese had been killed in the engagement.

FRANCOISTS GAIN ON SEGRE FRONT

Insurgents Claim 1,200 Captured in Attack On Loyalist Salient

HENDAYE, France (AP)—Spanish insurgent armies hammered today at government lines on the Segre River's west bank, in northeast Spain, and claimed to have captured ground in the Seros sector.

Insurgent communiques from the Segre front, only active battleground in Spain, reported the capture of 1,200 prisoners, but the extent of territorial gains was not mentioned.

Government dispatches considered the insurgents had "slightly bettered their position."

The insurgent attack was aimed at reducing the government salient west of the river from which militiamen threatened insurgent communications between Fraga and Lerida.

Hitler's Paper Attacks Canada

Its Charge Atrocities Seen on Indian Reserves in Dominion Denied at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Charges in Chancellor Hitler's newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, that "real atrocities" are taking place on Canadian Indian reservations were denied today by Dr. H. W. McGill, director of the federal government's Indian affairs branch.

"The facts hardly support the charge," Dr. McGill said. "Canadian Indians are not demoralized by liquor. The Indian Act forbids supplying Indians with liquor and it is very strictly enforced all over the Dominion."

"And Indians are not allowed to starve. The aged and infirm are always given relief. In fact, any Indian who cannot take care of himself is provided for."

In its attack on Canada at the week-end the Voelkischer Beobachter declared a "campaign of hatred" had been unleashed against Germany in the Dominion.

T-C.A. Planes Will Use Sidney Airport

Parking Meters Raised Again

City Wants Power But Not Ready to Use It, Committee Told

Victoria's City Council is not "meter-minded," but a future council may be. That is why the city wants power under the Municipal Act to install parking meters in the downtown sections, Mayor Andrew McGavin told the municipal committee of the Legislature.

"Vancouver got the power last year. This being the capital city we want to keep abreast of Vancouver," the mayor said.

The city asked the committee for a special clause conferring on Victoria alone the authority to rent its parking space. Decision on it was reserved after some discussion.

Alderman Fred Crone, Liberal, Vancouver Centre, said—Vancouver had not yet decided to use its powers on parking meters, but petitions were now being obtained by residents of some streets asking for them.

"I'm not pressing the issue," he said, "but it is coming to a head naturally. Portland, of course, has the meters having practically solved their parking problem and the revenue pays for their operation."

Alderman Crone said a check-up on the "sleeper" cars parked on the streets were owned by office workers and clerks.

"Smaller merchants realize," he said, "that their curb space is practically as valuable as their window space. When people can't park near a store they usually go to a departmental store where parking facilities are provided."

He said he expected Vancouver would put meters on two or three streets as a trial. He predicted this would result in a universal demand for them.

About 65 cities over 50,000 population had put them in on the continent, and in only three cases were they later rescinded, he said.

E. H. Bridgman, deputy minister of municipal affairs, asked if the city intended to lease any of its curb space to companies or individuals.

"No that is not the intention," said H. S. Pringle. "It's just for meters."

Mr. Pringle said merchants in Victoria thought there were a "good many sleepers" among the cars parked on city streets.

"But they can pinch you for it," said Herbert Anson, Conservative, Victoria. "Once I got two summonses in three days."

"But the police get tired of pinching the same old cars every time," said Alderman Crone.

Mr. Pringle said he thought there was no harm in the city getting the enabling legislation.

"No, except that it clutters up the statutes with one more piece of law that you may not use," said Mr. Anson.

W. T. Straith, Liberal, Victoria, described the recent test case in Victoria court when the magistrate held that a man could evade the parking law by simply moving his car a few feet every hour.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Gets Word From Minister of Transport

Will Serve City

Victoria today was assured of being the western terminus of Trans-Canada Airlines.

Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport this morning advised R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, that the Dominion Government airfield at Sidney, now under construction, would be used for this purpose.

Officials of Trans-Canada Airlines, Mr. Howe intimated, regard an airport at Victoria as essential for the successful operation of their route.

Mr. Howe's letter to Mr. Mayhew leaves the way open for the city to go ahead with its own airfield, but it is doubtful if any attempt will be made until after the service has been in operation out of Sidney. Mr. Howe said that if Victoria insisted on building another field and could furnish a suitable site the Dominion Government would pay one-third the cost of acquiring the land and developing the field. After the field is built the government would pay for landing rights, but he pointed out that the revenue from this source would not be sufficient to pay for the operation of the airport.

Mr. Mayhew presented his letter to Alderman Archie Willis, chairman of the Greater Victoria Airport Committee, and R. H. B. Ker, chairman of the airport committee.

For several years these committees have worked on several schemes to provide the city with an airport, but they have found them very costly and did not feel that the city should be asked to lay out so much money.

Both Alderman Willis and Mr. Ker said today that the use of Sidney airport would prove a solution for the time being at any rate. The Sidney field will be ready for service long before one could be constructed in the city. Not more than two planes will be operating daily in Trans-Canada Airlines for some time, and it will give the City Council plenty of time to watch the results of the service.

FINE WORK

Both Alderman Willis and Mr. Ker spoke very highly of the valuable work done by Mr. Mayhew in solving the airport problem here and extended their congratulations to him. Mr. Mayhew has had many communications with Mr. Howe and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defense, on the matter and called on them personally when in Ottawa recently.

Victoria will play an important part in future operation of Trans-Canada Airlines special mail from the Orient, Australia, New Zealand and Hawaii will be taken off steamers here and put immediately on planes at the Sydney field for speedy delivery to Prairie and eastern Canada destinations.

This city will also become an important transportation point for inbound passengers, anxious to reach the east as quickly as possible. By the time their ships, on which they crossed the Pacific, have reached Vancouver, they, by taking a plane at Sidney, will be in Winnipeg.

The taxpayers of this city have been put to no expense to build it, the Sidney airport, yet it will be only 30 minutes by car from the City Hall. Airports in most large cities, it is pointed out, are from 30 to 45 minutes from the centre of business and population and it has come to be an accepted thing that a half-hour motor drive always follows disembarkation from an airplane.

Airplane Board Sits Long Hours At Crash Inquiry

Reported It Finds
Fog Did Not Cause
Regina Accident

REGINA (CP)—Officials of the Department of Transport today continued their investigation of the plane crash near here early Friday in which two Trans-Canada Airline pilots were killed. The board sat throughout Saturday and Sunday and resumed its task this morning.

Captain David Imrie, 28, and first officer Jack Herald, 29, were the victims. They had just taken off from the Regina airport when the big Lockheed 14 machine broke into flames and plunged to the earth a mile or so west of here.

The board of inquiry, headed by Squadron Leader Alan Ferrier of the Department of Transport, has given out no information on the sessions, held in camera. It was understood, however, that experts found that fog, frost or ice had not been the cause of the crash.

Witnesses were heard by the board until nearly midnight Saturday and the sessions Sunday continued until the evening. The findings will be forwarded to Ottawa, where a statement will then be made by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport.

Two eye witnesses of the crash told the officials Saturday they had seen the plane burst into flames while in the air and then drop from about 200 feet. The men giving this information were Dan Gustilo and Jack Throver, farm hands.

D. J. Severns, representative of the Lockheed Aircraft Company, which built the plane, examined the wreckage and announced the conclusion that the machine was "structurally sound and all in good order."

The body of Capt Imrie will be buried at his home town in Wilkie, Sask., tomorrow. On the same day the body of First Officer Herald, will be buried at Vancouver. Pilot Herald was born at Cloverdale, B.C.

Schools Reopened In Dayton, Ohio

DAYTON, O. (AP)—The doors of Dayton's school buildings swung open today and received 34,000 pupils who were forced to quit their studies three weeks ago when funds for their classes ran out. Members of the board of education, who closed the schools when they faced a deficit of $61,000 and no operating funds, embarked on a "pay as you go basis" with approximately $430,228 available.

Bren Arguments Heard

OTTAWA (CP)—A dispute over the production of government documents occurred when the Bren gun inquiry was resumed today before Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, royal commissioner. Lieut.-Col. George Drew, K.C., of Toronto asked for production of the "whole Canada House file," a bundle of documents relating to the Bren gun contract obtained from the High Commissioner's office in London.

L. A. Forsyth, associate government counsel, said he had no objection, but Aime Geoffrion, K.C., counsel for the John Inglis Co. Limited, objected. The commissioner said there was force in Mr. Geoffrion's remarks and he did not see the necessity of bringing in documents at this stage which had always been available and on which there was now no opportunity of questioning witnesses.

Col. Drew said there were only two or three documents he wished to mention in his argument and it was agreed they should be specified and filed.

It was Col. Drew, author of a magazine article which provoked the inquiry, who began counsel's arguments that will last all week. It will be based on eight weeks of evidence concerning the contract under which the John Inglis Co.

Limited is to make 7,000 Bren light machine guns for the National Defence Department on a cost plus 10 per cent basis.

CALL CHIEF OF STAFF

Mr. Forsyth attempted to read a letter from Major-Gen. E. C. Ashton, chief of the general staff, explaining the facts concerning a certain "blue-covered" book mentioned in the previous hearings by Col. Drew. The latter objected to introducing fresh evidence in the form of a letter or statement. Mr. Justice Davis ordered counsel to have General Ashton placed on the stand at some time before argument is completed.

When the court was ready to proceed, Commissioner Davis announced that counsel had "generously fixed the order of argument," and had agreed on a time limit which was "not only wise but helpful to me."

Col. Drew, starting his argument, referred to the order-in-council setting up the commission and the public statement by Prime Minister King that the magazine article could not do otherwise than arouse suspicion.

"No attempt of any kind has been made to seriously disprove facts contained in that article," Col. Drew declared.

EDMONTON (CP)—Suggestion that the visit of the King and Queen to Alberta next summer be marked—in communities throughout the province by special observances is contained in a statement issued by Mayor J. "It is quite obvious that Their Majesties will be able to visit but few points in the west, but we suggest their brief stay in this province should be observed by spiritual and patriotic exercises," the statement said.

Lower Freight Rates

CALGARY (CP)—Downward revision of freight rates from eastern Canada was demanded in a resolution adopted at a meeting of the executive and advisory committee of the Alberta Conservative Association here Saturday, it was learned today.

The resolution declared present rates from the east "were without moral justification," and were "discriminatory upon the trade and commerce of Alberta."

Another resolution endorsed urged immediate action to obtain favorable rates for shipment of Turner Valley oil to eastern markets.

BETTER TERMS FOR CALGARY BAKERS

CALGARY (CP)—Shorter working hours with standard rates of pay are in prospect for Calgary bakers. Overtime is provided for and a week's holiday each year. The agreement will be effective December 10 if approved by the provincial government.

MAN HURT IN LEAP FROM TRAIN

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Wilfred Sherman was reported recovering in a hospital here today from injuries suffered when he jumped from a Great Northern Railway freight train south of here last night.

According to police, Sherman thought he was on a Canadian National Railway train at the time and jumped when it made an unexpected turn.

He was returning home to Port Mann, after giving his wife a blood transfusion in a Vancouver hospital.

Sherman's cries, as he lay injured near the tracks, were heard by a nearby resident.

Germans Protest Tanganyika Plan

Object to British Scheme for Home
For Jews

By MELVIN WHITELEATHER
Associated Press Foreign Staff
BERLIN — Prime Minister Chamberlain's disclosure that Tanganyika, Germany's former east African colony, would be used for settling Jews fell like a bombshell here today.

The Nazi press for days has been warning that "any such attempt would meet with the sharpest protest."

It came amid the first signs of abatement in Germany's 11-day anti-Semitic drive which has deprived German Jews of virtually all freedom and reduced tens of thousands to destitution.

Many Germans interpret plans to settle German Jews in their former colonies as a move to prevent the return of such war-lost possessions to Germany.

One authoritative commentator declared, "The Tanganyika step is an obvious attempt to prejudice the colonial question."

Before Mr. Chamberlain's announcement, informed Nazi quarters had said they expected Chancellor Hitler to tell Oswald Pirow, defence minister of the Union of South Africa, Germany would consider such a plan an "affront."

Mr. Pirow is scheduled to see the Chancellor Thursday at Berchtesgaden. Joachim von Ribbentrop, foreign minister, was understood already to have told Mr. Pirow the same thing.

Jews who for meritorious service in Germany during the World War had been permitted to wear their uniforms on solemn occasions, have lost that privilege.

A decree dated November 19 and signed by Hitler and Colonel-General Wilhelm Keitel, a member of the secret council and acting war minister, says:

"Jews who belong to the old or new army, to the Austro-Hungarian defence force or Austrian federal arms and who were accorded the right to wear uniform are herewith deprived of this right."

STORES CLOSED

Window-smashing and decrees will have eliminated by the end of the year all retail business owned by German Jews. One-third of Jewish-owned stores will be taken over by non-Jews and the rest simply abandoned.

Present owners will not be permitted to salvage ready cash by sales or auctions. They have been told to "liquidate" and, with few exceptions, have been forbidden to operate their business during the time remaining before the decree wiping them out becomes effective January 1.

Jewish relief societies can not care for thousands who apply for help and the doors of many still are closed. No foreign relief societies have been established here.

Many Jews face the future not knowing where to turn even to live from day to day. They estimate that 60,000 Jewish men have been sent to jail and concentration camps, leaving many families unable to replenish ready cash funds.

C.P.R. Discusses New Coast Ships

Building to Await Favorable Times,
Says D. C. Coleman

VANCOUVER (CP)—"There will be no additional ships placed in the coastwise service next year. The company has in mind a program for replacement of certain older units of the fleet when building conditions are favorable," said D. C. Coleman, senior vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who is here from the east on his way to Victoria.

Rumor in recent months has said the B.C. Coast Service, a subsidiary of the C.P.R., would build three new ships for the Alaska service, replacing the Ss. Princess Charlotte, the Ss. Princess Alice and some of the older ships.

Mr. Coleman said the Canadian Pacific was not committed to any immediate changes in its ocean or coastwise services. Ocean services would remain as at present.

Mr. Coleman reiterated a statement made here two months ago by Sir Edward Beatty, president of the C.P.R., that present docking facilities at Vancouver are sufficient to meet requirements.

"We hope for, and expect, an increase in steamship traffic through this port when world conditions return to normal, but no immediate action on replacement of Pier D is now in mind," he said.

Pier D, coastwise steamer dock, was destroyed by fire last summer. Company ships at present use the deep sea dock, Pier B.C.

HOTEL PLANS

Disposition of the old Hotel Vancouver has not yet been settled, Mr. Coleman told interviewers. A new Hotel Vancouver jointly operated by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways will be opened here soon.

He declined to comment on the possible effect of the new Anglo-Canadian-United States trade treaties in freight movements.

"It is far too early to make any estimates of that kind," he said. "We will have to wait for the reactions of primary producers and industrialists."

Any "sound scheme" of bringing selected immigrants from Great Britain to Canada would have the support of the Canadian Pacific, Mr. Coleman said, if the immigrants were able to take part in the development of the Dominion's natural resources.

Fuel Report as Evidence Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—Unless the report of Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald on British Columbia's coal and petroleum industries is admitted as evidence, it will be impossible to impugn the Provincial Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board Act, Senator J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., stated in Court of Appeal here today.

Senator Farris, counsel for nine gasoline distributing companies, made the statement during his argument that a Supreme Court injunction against a government-approved gasoline price reduction should be sustained.

"Without considering the findings of the Macdonald report would it be possible to impugn this act?" Chief Justice Archer Martin asked the senator.

"I don't think it would," counsel replied.

Mr. Farris has argued the Macdonald report should be admitted as evidence. He said it implied that if the provincial government orders a gasoline price reduction crude oil producers in California would receive a part of the burden because of "integrated company structure whereby all sections of the petroleum industry—from well to consumer"—operated as a unit.

Such an attempt to pass on a loss to California operators would be an infringement of the Dominion Government's field of jurisdiction—the regulation of trade and commerce, he argued.

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, presenting the government's appeal from Mr. Justice A. M. Manson's injunction against the gasoline price cut, has argued the Macdonald report has no bearing on the case, since it has not been proven the government in passing its Control Board Act had any intention of implementing the Macdonald conclusions.

This reduction applies to item 611a of the Canadian tariff, covering boots, shoes, slippers and insoles of any material not otherwise provided for in the treaty and not including canvas shoes with rubber soles.

Continue Home Building Here

Minor construction in Greater Victoria continued to show activity despite the lateness of the season.

An even dozen permits were issued in the city, covering work with a total value of $11,875, a figure roughly $4,000 below that of last year.

Eleven permits were issued in Saanich, the total value being $7,930. James J. Campbell was given papers for the greenhouses on McGuire Avenue worth $1,800. R. E. Harrison will build a five-room $2,500 home on Gorge Road, George McCarthy a four-room dwelling worth $1,600 on Giles Cross Roads and another builder a three-room $1,200 structure on Vincent Avenue.

Permits for four new houses were issued at Oak Bay during the week. Those who received them, the size of the homes and their values follow: J. W. B. Jones, nine rooms at 651 Falkland Road, $5,000; T. Lemble, eight rooms at 1057 St. David Street, $7,900; H. Court, four rooms, 2194 Bartlett Avenue, $1,900, and an anonymous owner, five rooms, 1587 Monterey Avenue, $3,000.

In Esquimalt papers were taken out in the name of Mrs. J. E. Brunson for a $3,000 alteration to the Esquimalt Hotel, Pioneer Street. A permit was issued to J. E. Painter for a $1,500 house on Dominion Road.

J. S. McMillan SEEKS ELECTION

J. S. McMillan, strong supporter of craft education and a trustee for the 1930-31 term, today announced his decision to seek election to the city school board.

His entry raised to four the number of aspirants for office on the board. The three incumbents, Trustees P. E. George, Mrs. A. S. Christie and R. F. Green have decided to seek re-election. A fourth seat for a one-year term is also at stake in the election. The post was left vacant by the death of the late Trustee John Wallace.

Honorary secretary of the Arts and Crafts Society for 11 years and a teacher in the craft field, Mr. McMillan stated today it would be his plan to support and assist in any way possible the craft studies now incorporated into the junior high school curriculum.

Nominations for the by-election will be received up to 2 on the afternoon of December 5. Other nominations close at the same hour December 1.

Scots Present Musical Programme

A capacity audience gave de-servingly applause Friday night to the program of Scotch music presented in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium by the choir of First United Church, under the direction of W. C. Fyfe.

The program also included Scottish readings and dances, with assisting artists taking part.

Selections by the choir included "Scots Wha Hae," "Ye Banks and Braes," "Border Ballads" and many other popular numbers. The male trio of James Petrie, John Bell and Mr. Fyfe, drew a hearty encore with their presentation of "Willie Brewed a Peck."

Others contributing were: Mr. Bell and Mrs. Charles Goodwin, a duet, "When Ye Gang Awa"; Mrs. Goodwin, in a solo, "Jessie's Dream"; Mrs. W. H. Wilson in a solo, "There Cam a Young Man to My Daddy's Door"; Miss Carol Menzies, in a solo, "My Ain Folk"; Robert Morrison, in a solo, "The Lea Rig" and James Petrie in a solo, "The Peat Flame Fire." Highland dances were presented by James MacBeth, piped by Andrew Pollock and Mr. Fyfe gave a humorous reading, "Granny Tamson's Cat." Pipe-Major Donald Cameron contributed pipe solos during the evening.

France Entertains Carol of Roumania

PARIS (CP) — King Carol of Roumania, on a trip designed to obtain Anglo-French support for his country against increasing economic pressure by Germany, yesterday was guest of President Lebrun at a luncheon at the Elysee Palace.

Guests at the luncheon included Premier Daladier, Foreign Minister Bonnet and Finance Minister Raynaud.

(The Associated Press said Carol's friend, Mme. Magda Lupescu, was staying at the Hotel Maurice, where Carol is stopping, and where the Duke and Duchess of Windsor are also guests. Private sources confirmed she was keeping closely to her suite at the hotel.)

The possibility was seen in diplomatic circles here that a fairly solid front, composed of Roumania, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and Bulgaria might be able to prevent German economic penetration becoming any more than that.

"When the campaign finished November 7, there was a shortage of $13,000; since that date the deficit has been reduced to $9,293, and practically all the money has been brought in in reply to an appeal by the campaign committee," they said.

The committee declared they believed the full amount would be obtained in a few weeks. The objective this year is $89,297.

'Y' PLANS REVEAL SPECTACULAR SHOW

The Y.M.C.A. pantomime, which is to be held in the Armories on the evening of December 9 and 10, promise to be one of the most spectacular shows ever staged in Victoria.

Plans for the pantomime are now well under way. Tickets are on sale at the "Y" office.

Hundreds of performers will be seen in mass drill and dancing displays. The show will present acts for all members of the family.

At a meeting of the "Y" pantomime executive recently, detailed plans and progress was revealed in reports by Miss W. Shaw and Warren W. Martin, program officials. These will be announced at a later date.

Dave Stark and Alf Savage, representatives of the Hi-Y Club, offered the services of the club to the pantomime executive.

Len Oliver and his class "Y" tumbling team, also reported something new for their part in the program of the pantomime. J. A. Heritage, was in the chair.

BRITISH ENGINEER HELD IN RUSSIA

B. Grover Flew
Into Country to Bring His Wife Away

MOSCOW (AP) — A British engineer who made an airplane flight into Soviet Russia to try to get his Russian-born wife out of the country is under arrest here.

The engineer, Bryan Grover, without an entry visa for himself or, exit visa for his wife, flew from Stockholm and landed at Stariza, 100 miles short of Moscow. He was arrested there.

Grover has been trying for a year to get a permit for his wife to leave. Russian law does not recognize marriage to a foreigner as an acceptable reason for leaving the country.

The two were married while he worked in the Soviet oil industry several years ago. He went later to Iran (Persia), intending to return for his wife, but was unable to obtain a re-entry visa.

He hoped by the flight to attract attention of some high Soviet officials who would aid his cause.

Control of Western Pacific Debated

TOKIO (AP) — An outspoken editorial in the newspaper Hochi Sunday declared the issue raised by the recent United States protest against discrimination in China lay not in China, but in ultimate domination of the entire western Pacific.

"Determination of who finally will be 'master of the western Pacific,' the newspaper said, will be the 'answer of the issue.'"

The Hochi's statement reflects a view long held by the Japanese navy, which consistently has argued that control of Pacific ocean trade lanes is equally as important as control of areas on the Asiatic mainland.

(The Japanese asserted Japan was engaged in establishing a new order in Asia. This was interpreted in authoritative quarters as virtual declaration that Tokyo considered the 1922 Nine-power Treaty obsolete.

The treaty, signed at Washington by Japan, Great Britain, the United States and six other nations, pledged respect for China's territorial integrity and independence and the principle of the "open door.")

The Hochi saw the United States protest as the latest manifestation of "American policy of the past 40 years," and concluded that further exchanges of notes would be futile, since the real answer must be found in "who will be master of the western Pacific."

The newspaper Yomiuri expressed disappointment Japan's reply had not stated openly the empire's intention to renounce the Nine-power Treaty.

"The reply to the American note was an excellent chance for Japan to clarify her attitude toward the treaty," the Yomiuri said.

"The government's reply was too conservative. The treaty is a dead letter, and its continuance is harmful. The government at the earliest occasion should make a clear-cut expression in this direction."

HEY MOTHER — how about some APPLES!

Yes, Mother! What about some apples? You know, if the children did the shopping, there'd always be apples in the house. Probably boxes of 'em! Of course, the kiddies would buy apples because they're so good to eat. Little do they know of the healthful abundance of mineral salts and vitamins in fresh fruit. Little do they realize that Mother Nature intended that they should get so much pleasure out of sinking their teeth into a big, red, juicy apple, and Mother knows the value of apples in keeping strong young bodies healthy.

Give the children an apple to take to school, and always keep a box handy to satisfy that "between-meal hunger".

For eating and cooking, B.C. APPLES are the world's finest. Use them every day... put them in the children's school bag... make them into tasty dishes.

The Fanatic's Progress

MORE THAN THREE SCORE FOREIGN newspapers were barred from Nazi Germany the other day. These included prominent British and American dailies such as The Times (London), the Manchester Guardian and the New York Times. In the list were French, Belgian, Swiss, Danish, Czechoslovakian, Polish and Vatican journals. Their offense, of course, was the recording of anti-Jewish activities in the Reich.

It is not easy for people living in Democratic countries—or in countries where bestiality and brutality are serious offences against the state and punished accordingly—to understand the mentality of the gentry who dominate the people of Greater Germany. How they imagine, moreover, that by the constant application of the policy of terrorism they can solidify their position within their own territorial limits is beyond comprehension. Surely even the fanatical Hitler-Goering-Goebbels triumvirate must realize in its saner moments—if it ever has any—that no country can survive indefinitely on a policy of sheer wanton destruction in any of its varied forms.

Notwithstanding the claim of one eminent industrialist that history is "bunk," there are certain chapters in the history of the nations that are by no means unknown, if unheeded, by the Nazi oligarchy at Berlin. Spain and Portugal, for example, did what Germany is doing today. Their present state is not the best kind of an advertisement to which to point as a convincing warranty for their former practices.

Dr. Manion Has Done It

AND NOW DR. MANION HAS INCURRED the wrath of the Vancouver Daily Province. He was figuratively wrapped over the knuckles on Saturday, because he had dared to say "he wanted more study if before presenting his views on the Canadian-American trade treaty." The mainland newspaper grudgingly admits that there are hundreds of items included in the tariff changes "of which not even the experts can speak with complete assurance off-hand," but still contends that "Dr. Manion should have been able to express himself, and should have expressed himself, fearlessly and frankly when occasion arose." Then the Province takes this little dig at the Conservative leader:

"Not long ago the British Empire stood in a position of great danger, and Dr. Manion was asked to express his views. He refused on that occasion as well, saying that Mr. King should speak for Canada in anything that was said. It was not an adequate reason. The leader of a great political party, even though that party is in opposition, has responsibilities no less than the leader of the government."

Our contemporary quite naturally makes a slight concession to the newness of Dr. Manion to his job and condescends to say that "no one will be disposed to criticize him too harshly for his failure to rise to his responsibility on these two occasions." There is none the less this "sting" in the tail of the Province's editorial: "But he should take warning. If he refuses to make himself heard when he should be heard, he may find the people unwilling to listen when he wants to be heard."

It is naturally beside the question to suggest that when our contemporary says "fearlessly and frankly" just what it means on any occasion we shall be within nothing distance of an economic and social Utopia. There is still the chance, of course, that Dr. Manion has not been able to discover so far in the new treaty that "selling-out-to-the-United States" skulduggery on which the Vancouver newspaper had been harping for months—and which, of course, much to the Province's political disappointment, is not there.

Plain Speech

SEVERAL BRITISH NEWSPAPER COMMENTS on Mr. Vernon Bartlett's striking victory for the anti-Chamberlain forces in the Somersetshire constituency of Bridgwater last week propound a moral which has long been clear to all those who still believe in operative Democracy. Perhaps the plainest meaning of the by-election is set out by the Manchester Guardian. It says in part: "If the electors had felt thankful for Mr. Chamberlain's methods of appeasement, Mr. Bartlett's uncompromising opinions would have injured him in the election. Bridgwater is, however, no isolated instance," and "we shall probably hear a great deal less of a February election."

his party managers will tell Mr. Chamberlain that he must have better goods to deliver before he appeals to the country."

The Conservative Yorkshire Post is scarcely less pointed than its Liberal contemporary in its reference to the government's emphatic defeat. It says in part: "Recent by-elections have shown beyond doubt that the nation is divided and bewildered. We have urged the government to take counsel with the national leaders outside their own ranks in order that there may be devised a foreign policy based not on mere aspiration but, instead, on realities capable of being grasped and responded to by the people of Britain."

down as easily as possible. Quite legibly written between the lines, however, is the intimation to the cabinet that the public at large is awake to the full significance of what really happened at Munich. It is now clear to all that the sheet of notepaper containing the signatures of Neville Chamberlain and Adolf Hitler—waved triumphantly to the crowds at Heston airport by the Prime Minister on his return to England from the ancient Bavarian city—had no validity as a treaty. Yet it marks the end of an epoch as no formal treaty could do.

Last Saturday's attack on the Marquess of Zetland, Secretary of State for India, by the Berlin Boersen Zeitung—leading financial newspaper of the capital—for daring to criticize Germany's attack on the Jews indicates the interpretation Nazi leaders have put upon the document. The Zeitung found it "incomprehensible" that a member of the cabinet of Prime Minister Chamberlain should attack Germany "with which Chamberlain recently made a peaceful agreement." The Marquess had said anti-Jewish violence had "rudely shaken" his hope the four-power Munich agreement of September 29 would open a new chapter in human history.

What the Anglo-German accord did, of course, was to make it easier for the Reichsfuehrer to demand what he wants and get it—because he and Mr. Chamberlain agreed that Britain and Germany would not go to war to settle any future "difficulties" that might crop up. Hence, the Yorkshire Post wants a foreign policy "based not on mere aspiration."

Dollar Velocity

LOUIS GUENTHER, EDITOR OF THE Financial World, points out that it is neither gold nor currency which is the base of prosperity, but that the power of the movement of money through the arteries of commerce is a fact that is little understood by the lay mind. In economics this is referred to as the "velocity of money." To illustrate its significance a simple example can be given. Suppose four men meet, each owing another $10. Say these men are Jones, Baker, Stevens and Smith. Jones says to Baker, "By the way, here is the $10 I owe you." Baker in turn tells Stevens "This 'tenner' will settle my obligations to you," and then Stevens turns to Smith, remarking, "I am now square with you" as he pays him, and finally Smith squares his $10 debt to Jones and the circle is completed. Here we see how one $10 bill has liquidated a total of $40 in debts of four individuals.

Now we come to the opposite picture: Jones buys $10 worth of goods from Baker, then Baker purchases a similar quantity from Stevens, and Stevens in turn buys a similar quantity from Smith, the latter completing the circle by removing from Jones' shelf a like amount of goods. Ten dollars have circulated among four people, but in traveling in this circle they have exercised $40 worth of purchasing power. Now multiply this example by the billions of dollars governments and private business may spend, and their purchasing power can reach astronomical figures. Hence it is not the money in the banks, nor in treasuries, which carries much significance, but how to get money moving from one pocket to another is the important thing. We can well realize now why so much importance is attached to getting money to circulate.

Asia for the Asiatics seems to mean Japan for the Japanese, and as the Calgary Albertan suggests, Manchukuo for the Japanese and China for the Japanese.

A Japanese spokesman says that Japan is making great sacrifices in China for the good of mankind. Which leads the Toronto Star to ask who said the Japanese were without a sense of humor?

Discovery by the Vancouver police that Mr. J. Sartor, who died in that city, was worth $14,000 the other day, habitually clothed himself in old potato sacks, inspires the Montreal Gazette to describe him as a modern Sartor Resartus.

Of the $362,750,487 total of bond financing in the Dominion of Canada so far this year, 10 per cent has been taken by United States investors, according to a bond house compilation. Despite the pessimists, this is still a pretty good country in which to invest.

Inquiry into the causes of the Trans-Canada Airlines crash in which two lives were lost near Regina last week is to be behind closed doors. This is an unfortunate precedent for the airways to set in handling its first accident. If T.C.A. is to succeed it must merit public confidence in its organization and equipment. Secret inquiries do not contribute to public confidence.

4,000 PAGES OF EVIDENCE

From Ottawa Journal

Few would want the task that now faces Mr. Justice Davis, or the responsibility that is his. Confronted by 4,000 pages of evidence and 387 exhibits—and the argument of counsel still to come—he has to decide whether the Bren gun contract was a wise and provident contract for the Dominion Government to make; if not, where the blame should rest. In the knowledge that the case will be the subject of prolonged and probably acrimonious discussion in Parliament, he must make a report that will stand up under fire, that will present the facts and the indisputable conclusions to be drawn therefrom. It is a duty of the trained judicial mind.

We think Mr. Justice Davis in these extended proceedings has impressed the public by his fairness, his determination to explore every last pertinent detail of the circumstances attending the making of this contract, and by his patience.

It should be said also at this time, we think, that whatever may be the nature of the commissioner's findings the inquiry has proved of value to the public interest. And as the man whose magazine article set in motion the forces that have produced these masses of evidence Colonel George Drew can have nothing to regret.

ENGINEERS

FOR ONE, I DON'T understand Technocracy. There are a lot of other people in the world who don't understand Technocracy; and understand it still less after they have listened to the Technocrats, like Mr. Howard Scott. But I gather that Technocracy is designed to put the control of the world and its human contents in the hands of engineers.

This, like a great many other schemes for rationalizing society, assumes that man is a rational animal, that he yields to the treatment of engineers, as other rational substances do—like steel, and concrete and bricks and mortar.

Alas for all reformers of this school, they find that man is not a rational substance and does not yield to engineering in the least. He cannot be calculated like concrete. He is liable to shrink or grow great in defiance of all the rules of geometry and measurement. He is liable to develop the most unexpected stresses and strains, the most embarrassing weaknesses which no one can foresee.

He doesn't react to natural laws like any material in the world. He boils up, or sizzles down, or flies off at a tangent, or falls in love and no engineer can do anything about him. That is why you have politicians. They can adjust themselves to this queer material in their hands, or at least judge what crazy thing it is likely to do next and get out of the way.

It must make the Technocratic engineers mad to see how the material is acting these days. And it is affecting to realize that these poor fellows imagine they will ever be able to control and rationalize it according to a blueprint as if we were reliable machines when, as anyone can see, we are such stuff as dreams are made of.

But perhaps fellows like Mr. Scott and his Technocrats should be grateful, after all, that we are as we are. If we were rational beings, as they assume, we wouldn't go and listen to lectures by Mr. Howard Scott, who just makes your flesh creep and practically scares you to death. We would go to the movies and Mr. Scott would lose his livelihood.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY

ACROSS THE BAY, where I am working these days, we have a very bright-eyed lad of 12, whose ambition is to become a newspaperman. This is very sad in one so young but, by associating with members of the Legislature, he may yet acquire a proper ambition in life. Meanwhile he is practicing on the typewriter in every spare moment and, to while away the time, has just started on a complete autobiography. As an important document of youth I think you will appreciate it.

Without any change in spelling, the autobiography runs as follows:

"Well, I was asked to write my life story by one of the press members, so I guess its about time I started. I was born in Victoria in 1926; I am still living in the same house that I was born in and have never moved out of it, and as far as that goes I do not care if I never move out of it. I was always getting into trouble, and to tell the truth I still do get in to more wrong than right. At the age of six I started at the Quadra Primary School and got on very well. Well to make a long story short I passed every grade and left the school. I then went to the North Ward School where I started in grade four. I passed every grade until I got to grade six I then went to the Hospitable; when I left the Hospitable I was minus my appendices which I did not really care because I never could find a good reason as to what they were for. In 1937 I got a job as Page boy which took six weeks out of my schooling, but I studied at night. I tried again to get in for the 1938 session and I landed a job. This is from where I am writing this story; well that about everything that was of any importance in my life. Well goodbye until another time."

COMING AGAIN

ONE PERCEIVES once more the vicious propaganda in favor of Christmas. Personally, I am against it. I think nearly everybody is against it, but in this question there is no democracy, no self-determination, only the blind autocratic rule of one man, Mr. S. Claus. So we might as well make up our minds to it. You can't stop it.

But no free man is going to be overcome by the propaganda in favor of shopping early. There is something low and cowardly about shopping early, taking advantage of your fellow men, scheming, conspiring, as it were, to go ahead of everybody else.

No, the honest man will take his chance, fling himself into the last mad rush and go down fighting in a final welter, broke, exhausted and happy. However, I don't expect many people will do it in the old-fashioned way. The propaganda of efficiency and preparedness and armament has gone too far in the world. Most people will shop early. Only a few spirits will wait until it is too late to do anything but spend all their money on useless things, which are the only excuse for Christmas.

ONE ADVANTAGE

From London Daily Telegraph

Vienna has sufficiently recovered from recent political shocks for a new set of jokes to be going the round of the cafes. One of these tells of a German and a Dutchman who met in a railway dining-car.

The German said: "We are a great nation. We have thousands of planes, thousands of tanks, and a potential army of millions."

"True," replied the Dutchman. "We cannot compete with you. We have a very small army, only a few airplanes, and practically no tanks. But, at any rate, when I hear someone knocking at the door in the morning I do know that it is the milkman."

Where the Armament Race Leads

William F. Stone in a Report of the Foreign Policy Association, New York

WORLD ARMAMENT expenditures reached a new peak in 1938. Even after making adjustments for changes in the level of prices, military expenditures are more than four times as large as they were in 1913. The rate of acceleration is without precedent in modern times except for the period of actual hostilities during the World War.

Within the space of four years, world expenditures for military purposes have more than tripled, rising from a total of $5,000,000,000 in 1934 to approximately $15,000,000,000 in 1937. Estimates for 1938 indicate a total exceeding $18,000,000,000 before the end of the current year.

Responsible statesmen and economists have sounded repeated warnings that the consequences of rearmament cannot be disregarded with impunity. The economic consequences, while perhaps less obvious than the political, are not less portentous. For the process of rearmament itself introduced a new and dangerous element in world economy.

IT HAS ALREADY become a powerful factor in the internal economy of an increasing number of states, capitalist democracies as well as authoritarian dictatorships. As a British journal, the New Statesman and Nation, recently observed, certain developments raise "the whole question whether capitalism can arm for totalitarian war and survive in anything like its present form."

Many fundamental questions are raised by the flow of investment capital into heavy industry for war purposes and by the growing trend toward governmental intervention in the economic life of nations. Other questions are evoked by the continuance of deficit financing.

Even before 1936, every great power except Britain had abandoned the attempt to finance rearmament and meet the current needs of government without resorting to borrowing. Today, with Great Britain borrowing for rearmament, virtually no government is operating on a balanced budget. Furthermore, the increasing share of national income consumed by war preparations has already begun to have its effect on other types of economic activity and to threaten social and civil services of government.

THE PHENOMENAL increase of world armament expenditure from approximately $4,000,000,000 in 1933 to more than $18,000,000,000 in 1938 had introduced a new and disturbing factor into world economy, even before the Czechoslovak crisis raised the spectre of immediate war. Quite apart from the political tension created by swollen armaments, the rapid acceleration of arms expenditures has already distorted the national economy of virtually every industrial nation.

Internally, it has diverted capital and savings into non-productive state enterprises and forced the abnormal expansion of heavy industry to a point well beyond the requirements of peace-time. In the short run, this huge diversion of capital and savings has raised prices, stimulated industrial activity and provided employment in the construction and metallurgical industries. In the long run, if the present trend is not reversed, it threatens to lead to ruinous inflation or national bankruptcy.

The consequences are already apparent in both the democracies and the dictatorships. No government today is able to pay for rearmament entirely out of savings. The Soviet Union, which has made the attempt, has been forced to sacrifice the demand for much-needed consumers' goods and to appropriate nearly 40 per cent of its national revenue to the requirements of military defence.

While the totalitarian states have been able to impose a higher level of forced savings on their peoples than the democracies, they have not escaped the dangers of heavy deficit financing. In paying for rearmament, the dictatorships and democracies alike are confronted with unbalanced budgets, mounting deficits and the prospect of continued deficit financing.

HOW LONG can the present trend continue, even if general war is postponed or avoided? Few economists have been willing to hazard a guess, partly because the problem of armaments is essentially a political problem, partly because the economic principles which were assumed to govern the "normal" pre-war capitalist economy no longer operate in totalitarian states.

Nations can "afford" gigantic armament programs just so long as they are able to impose a high level of savings on their peoples, maintain the confidence of their peoples and export enough to pay for their essential imports. But the history of the past few years clearly demonstrates that this leads almost inevitably to dictatorship or government intervention.

In order to accomplish its purpose, the state is forced to appropriate a larger share of the national income, accelerate its own investment activity, intervene in the operations of national economy and suppress civil liberties. For the democracies, the ultimate cost of unlimited armament competition may be the loss of their free economies and the undermining of democracy itself.

The economic consequences of a general war are far more alarming. Should war last more than a few months, the economic system of every nation involved is almost certain to be shattered, and the impact will be felt even by those countries which are not directly involved at the outset.

WOLVES AND SALMON

To the Editor:—A little while ago a paper printed an item stating that "Wolves were a menace to salmon conservation." In reply several fishermen signed a letter, which you published, pointing out that the real menace was poaching.

A few days later another letter appeared, signed by C. A. Gaunt, a troller, who said that the wolf story was a joke. He stated that the only real menace was poaching and added that at least 50 per cent of this season's coho pack was made up of illegally caught fish.

A good many trollers took Mr. Gaunt to task for making the above statement as, in their opinion, it was far too conservative.

Any troller who has fished for four or five years knows that there was far more poaching this year than for some time past. Therefore, items appearing recently saying that this year's fish pack was larger than former seasons is quite true, at least of the coho pack.

But, if there had been no poaching, what would the coho pack have been? Where will this system of fishing land us commercial fishermen very shortly? It does not take a crystal gazer to give the answer.

NO TALENT HERE?

To the Editor:—Mr. Raymond Guyler, director of the Victoria Beaux-Arts Society is quoted as saying in an address before the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, "I do not think that with the present talent offered here that I could put on a show anywhere near professional efficiency."

Raymond Guyler is a good teacher and a good director, but is faced with the problem resulting from the fact that most of the students are lacking voice culture and stage speaking. There is considerable latent dramatic talent in this city if properly developed.

It seems to me that the essentials in dramatic work are good stage speaking and correct pronunciation. Before the coming of the moving picture there was a saying in the theatrical profession that "A bum actor with a good voice was better than a good actor with a bum voice."

CHAS. F. EAGLES.

FRANCHISE OBLIGATIONS
To the Editor:—Mr. A. J. Morley, ex-mayor, in a recent letter states the B.C. Electric Company must be judged not by what it says, but by what it has not done in the past, adding "If the company had its deserts the franchise should have been revoked when the company ceased living up to its obligations." Mr. Morley failed to state just when the franchise should have been revoked or what obligation, if any, the company did not live up to. Should Mr. Morley's statement be taken seriously, though one doubts very much that it will, the question arises, did this situation exist while Mr. Morley was mayor? If so it was he who failed us. However he would not be our only representative who had. Doubtless this is one of the major reasons why Victoria has slipped so many coggs. It is pleasing to note the attitude taken by the Chamber of Commerce and municipal representatives on the transportation problem is definitely one of progress. Great caution is of vital importance in such weighty matters if results are to be attained that will give the greatest good to the greatest number.

Slipshod and hurried decisions result in absolute failure so far as the quality of service we have every right to expect is concerned.

NOT OUR BOY

To the Editor:—Donald Stancil, now charged in the city courts, is not the son of Ernest Stancil, contractor, 721 Cowper Street, nor the son of H. W. Stancil, 836 Tillicum Road, Gorge Park.

Mrs. J. Adair of Calgary left today for her home in Alberta after visiting Mrs. G. W. LaCroix, Southgate Street.

Miss Sheila Sneddon was hostess, to a few friends at her home, Bridge Street, recently. There were two tables of bridge in play, the prizes being won by, first, Edna Coates and consolation, Winnie Webb. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. Press Women to Give Memorial Award

TORONTO (CP)—The members' memorial award of the Canadian Women's Press Club will be given to the author of the best short fiction story by a woman resident of Canada, the club's national executive decided here Saturday.

The award, a gold medal and $25, will be given for material published within the 12 months ending March 15, 1939.

The executive appointed Winifred M. Stokes of Niagara Falls, Ont., chairman of a committee to survey the types of newspaper work being done by women in Canada. National President Rosa L. Shaw of Montreal, in response to an invitation from the Canadian section of the Empire Press Union, was named the club's representative on the committee preparing for the Imperial conference of the Empire Press Union, to be held in Canada in 1940.

NEW FISH RECIPE BOOK

The Department of Fisheries, Ottawa, has just released a most helpful and interesting booklet "100 Tempting Fish Recipes." The recipes are planned specifically for Canadian fish, and are tested by well known home economists. Interesting chapters on the food value, vitamin content, and the way to buy fish are also included. Most popular recipes in this book for everyday use will be Canadian fish balls and creamed Canadian haddock. The recipe with the most "come-hither" in the title is "Hugger-in-Buff." Anyone may learn how to make it by writing the Department of Fisheries, Ottawa, for a free copy of this booklet.

COLWOOD

The Victoria Male Choir will give a concert in Colwood Hall on Monday evening, November 28.

Store Window Contest Opens

Chamber Announces Details of Competition for Downtown Merchants

Open to all stores in Victoria and district, the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce's first annual Christmas store window decorating contest will be ushered in today, Bill Mearns, chairman of the committee arranging the contest, announced Saturday.

Main purpose behind the contest is to stimulate interest in trade and induce the citizenry to shop early.

A trophy of handsome design, to be contested for annually, will be at stake. It will be displayed

In the B.C. Electric show windows at Pandora and Douglas Streets.

Mr. Mearns reported that entry forms can be secured now at the Junior Chamber of Commerce office in the Arcade Building. All entries must be in the hands of Norman Foster, secretary, by noon, December 2.

Displays must be completed by December 7, as judging will take place between December 7 and 10 between 7 and 10 in the evenings, when windows of all entrants must be lighted.

The entries will be judged on appropriateness to the Christmas season, general effect, originality, sales appeal and lighting effect.

As the merchants will benefit considerably from these displays, the chamber committee is anticipating a good response. The committee will shortly release details about the home-decorative lighting contest, which will follow the store competition.

Timber Wolves Hold Reunion

Ex-Members of 103rd Battalion Hold Anniversary Dinner

At their annual reunion dinner held Saturday night in Spencer's dining-room, ex-members of the "Timber Wolves," 103rd Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, celebrated their twenty-third anniversary.

Capt. F. G. Dexter presided and welcomed the ex-servicemen from all parts of the island. He referred to the fact 80 per cent of the battalion had been drawn from Vancouver Island.

In reply to the chairman's toast, the battalion, Rev. F. L. Stephenson, padre of the section, declared "When clouds of war hung heavily over Europe a few weeks ago, I felt that if the call came again to this island, those of the 103rd who are still physically fit would not be found wanting."

Silent tribute was paid to those who gave their lives during the Great War and a special feature during the evening was a song, "My Regiment," composed and dedicated to the old 103rd by William Holmes, one of its members.

Mr. Holmes' orchestra, with Cecil Heaton at the piano, provided incidental music during the evening, and cornet solos were contributed by Owen Pettigrew; vocal solos by Arthur Jackson and Stanley James, and ventriloquist turns by "Yorkie."

$500 MORE FOR CHILDREN'S AID

Community Chest Board Hears of Need For Extra Help

After listening to an appeal by a deputation of the board of managers of the Community Chest of Greater Victoria decided to make an additional grant of $500 to the Children's Aid Society. H. Dunford, chairman of finance superintendent, gave figures to show the work of the society had increased, and that at the end of December they would have a deficit, if a grant were not secured.

Miss Mess stressed the work of the society in connection with the Juvenile Court. "We have taken responsibility for five children from the Juvenile Court," said Miss Mess, "rather than have them committed to the Industrial Schools, and have also provided foster home care for three pre-delinquent boys. All these children have been placed in approved foster homes, and there is every chance of them becoming good citizens."

Payments to agencies for the month of November, amounting to $4,843.46, were passed by the Community Chest Board. A balance of $4,240 remains to be paid to the agencies, if required, in December. To date approximately the sum of $64,500 had been paid either monthly or quarterly to member agencies of the Community Chest.

A financial statement and trial balance showing accounts as at October 31 were presented and approved.

It was reported that some individual had stated he was a paid canvasser for the Community

Chest, and the secretary was instructed to again emphasize that no canvassers had ever been paid for collecting for the Community Chest and that, both last and this year, over 600 public-spirited men and women had volunteered their services, and that not one cent had been paid out for canvassing.

Epidemic Strikes Dogs and Cats

At the monthly meeting of the committee of the Society For the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals the inspector reported that there is a serious epidemic affecting dogs and cats, dogs being the worst sufferers, which appears to be a form of intestinal trouble.

He advised that some qualified person be consulted at the first appearance of the disease, that worm powders should not be administered without professional advice as they are liable to aggravate the distress and that coarse food should not be given. Animals should be kept off the streets on account of possible infection, and should be given comfortable quarters free from drafts. It was also reported that there is a good deal of distemper.

Persons having charge of dog troughs are requested to empty them in cold weather as they are liable to be damaged if frozen.

During the month 37 cases were attended and 347 animals inspected. Homes were found for three dogs and two cats.

Cases of cruelty or neglect should be reported to the inspector, G. A. Allen, telephone E 8351, to A. R. Sherwood, secretary-treasurer, telephone E 7556 or to the office, 304 Jones Block.

Preschool Age Training Vital

Adjustment to Life Should Be Taught, Dr. Anderson Tells P.-T.A.

The value of preschool training for children between the ages of five and six was stressed by Dr. H. A. R. Anderson in a luncheon address to delegates to the Parent-Teacher Association rally Saturday.

Dr. Anderson said the children should not be taught to read and count, but how to adjust themselves to life. The speaker emphasized the need for the correction of speech defects which appeared to be very common today, and said there was a definite need for classes in which parents could be taught the simpler facts of child defects.

Prior to the beginning of the afternoon session, Alfred Prescott's string quartette contributed selections, following which Dr. W. G. Black of the University of British Columbia spoke on the objectives of parent-teacher work.

The teachers helping the parents and the parents helping the teachers were the first aim of the movement, Dr. Black said, pointing out every parent was a teacher and every home a school.

Mrs. A. E. Delmage, past organizer, and past president of the federation, explained the P.T.A. movement offered advantages for the study of the welfare of the children. The functions and benefits of vocational training were outlined by John Kyle, who spoke of the vocational classes sponsored by the provincial government for unemployed men and women.

The importance of the school library in the modern curriculum was told of by J. M. Thomas, president of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, and Miss Margaret Clay, city librarian explained the contribution made by the Public Library to the school program.

"The Case for Alberta" will be the subject of a third address by Miss E. F. Roberts at a meeting of the Social Credit Society in room 224, Pemberton Building, tomorrow evening at 8.

Ward One Liberal Association annual general meeting will be held at Liberal headquarters on Friday evening at 8. Nominations for office include president, Joshua Smith; secretary, Lorne W. Merkle; vice-president, G. S. Tannock, and James P. Veitch; treasurer, Ernest Orchin and Joseph Youson. The ward executive and central executive will be selected from members in good standing.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sick and the world looks punk.

A more bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harshness and purges, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a million but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Enormously relieve anything else. See.

Do This If You're NERVOUS

Don't take chances on harmful opiates and products which you know nothing about. Use common sense. Get more fresh air, more sleep and take a reliable, time-proven medicine like famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—made especially for women from wholesome herbs and roots—let it help Nature tone up your system and thus calm jangled nerves, lessen distress from female functional disorders and make life worth living.

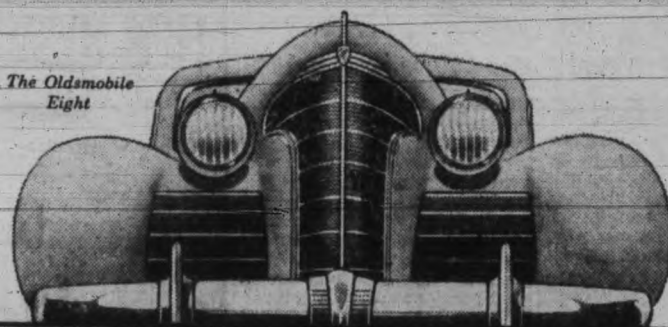

For over 60 years one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Pinkham's Compound—let it help YOU.

WANTS SETTLERS FOR PEACE RIVER

Time Empire Was Placing Own People in Own Areas Member Says

"It is about time the British Empire was placing its own people in its own territories," said Glen E. Braden, Liberal member for Peace River, in an address to members of the Gyro Club at luncheon at the Pacific Club today.

Mr. Braden's remark was made in reference to the proposed scheme to bring settlers from the Old Country out to the Peace River district.

The Liberal member said the Peace River block was on the verge of "tremendous development." He stressed the great possibilities in the district as judged from geological formations, and natural gas pockets in the area. The formations, he said, were similar to those found in the Turner Valley in the days just previous to its development.

Mr. Braden told of the great wealth of natural resources the Peace River country had, with mineral deposits of every natural state metal to be found in the province. There was a visible supply of semianthracite coal of 600,000,000 tons. Water power was almost unlimited, he said.

At the present time the country was looking to the airplane and the highway to further its development which had not reached the point where further extension of railway was necessary. Tax Collections Exceed Estimate

Percentage for 1938 Ahead of Last Year, Although Figures Lower

The city last week passed the figure it set in its estimates for collection of current taxes and looked forward to greater gains prior to the application of a further 3 per cent penalty on delinquents December 2.

Direct current tax collections on Saturday stood at $1,301,129.72, which was equivalent to 81.3 per cent of the total levy. Anticipated collections were listed at 81 per cent in the estimates, according to a statement today by George A. Okell, assessor-collector.

The total, however, lagged considerably below the actual collections for the similar period last year. At the corresponding date in 1937 the total was $1,332,067.59. For the full 12 months last year collections amounted to 81 per cent, the levy being considerably higher than that for 1938.

In the arrears division 50 per cent of the amount outstanding had been paid by Saturday, the figure being $281,246.18, against the 1937 total for the same period of $319,141.00. The latter total represented 44 per cent of the amount outstanding.

The final penalty on unpaid current taxes will be applied on December 2. It will raise the total levied against unpaid amounts to 6 per cent.

Publicity Bureau Sends Resolutions

Six Submitted to Ottawa Meeting Today On Tourist Subjects

Six resolutions from the Victoria Publicity Bureau were before the Canadian Association of Tourists and Publicity Bureaus at its annual meeting in Ottawa today.

The Victoria bureau is not represented at the meeting because of the expense.

The resolutions ask the Dominion Government to remove the 48-hour minimum on tourist customs exemptions so that the United States will reciprocate; urge that the Trans-Canada Highway be quickly finished; suggest a general clean-up in all Canadian cities in readiness for the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth; ask the Dominion Government to provide modern rooms at all ports of entry; urge the preservation of "British atmosphere" in the Dominion as a tourist attraction, and call for removal by the United States of customs duty on tourist literature published by Canadian chambers of commerce and automobile clubs.

In connection with the last resolution it is pointed out that Canada allows free entry to such literature from the United States. Under the new Canadian-United States trade treaty signed last Thursday the States cut the duty on the folders but did not remove it.

Taxicab Rates To Be Increased

Control in Outside Districts Sought Through Legislation

Taxi-cab rates in the Greater Victoria area will be increased, the municipal committee of the Legislature was told this morning when a proposal sponsored by taxi-men giving the outside municipalities power to set rates was under consideration.

Before making any decision the committee decided to hear from taxi-men, operators, municipal councils and the Board of Industrial Relations.

The increase in rates, W. T. Straith, Liberal, Victoria, said, was forced by new orders of the Board of Industrial Relations raising minimum wages and reducing hours of work.

Victoria, he explained, could handle the rate question now, but due to the narrowness of the city's boundaries and the fact that most taxi-companies operate into the adjoining municipalities control was not satisfactory. The proposed amendment to the Municipal Act would give the outside districts power over rates.

Oak Bay and Saanich representatives said they thought the suggested law should go before the Union of B.C. Municipalities before being recommended.

Mr. Straith said there had not been time to put it before the union this year.

"And if we lay it over to next year some of the taxi companies may be ruined in the meantime," he said.

Mr. Straith said a taxi company operating on the borders of the city could cut rates or in other ways offer unfair competition. It was very hard to check up if they took short trips into the city.

CITY EXPECTS RELIEF SAVING

If the provincial government meets the city's claims under the recently announced policy of 60 per cent contribution to the costs of unemployment, the city will enjoy a saving of about $1,000 a month above what it was due to receive under the pledged 40 per cent, according to computations made today at the city relief office.

Combined with the 40 per cent contribution by the province, announced in August, the total saving would amount to $3,000 a month.

The city's claim under the new regulations for the four months during which it was supposed to secure 40 per cent assistance from the province, amounts to $12,150 on the basis of costs for March, April, May and June accounts. Of that sum the 40 per cent would account for $8,100.

Accounts for the months succeeding June have yet to be met on the 40 per cent basis.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

New Seats at Plaza Theatre

New British-made luxury chairs which have been installed in the Plaza Theatre today were installed with a view to giving the discriminating public of Victoria the very finest in comfortable seating accommodation, said Ralph Calladine, manager of the theatre, today.

They were imported from Great Britain from one of the oldest and largest chair manufacturers through the exclusive Canadian agents, who have worked rapidly to have the seats ready for the opening today of "The Higgins Family," starring James Gleason, Lucille Gleason and Russell Gleason. They are duplicates of chairs used by King George and Queen Elizabeth.

In replacing the chairs the management has not spared expense to insure the comfort of the patrons. A widening of the space between the rows provides more knee room.

The new spacious chairs which have been installed in the main auditorium and balcony are constructed with the new insert panel which allows for added comfort.

Another feature is that the chair backs, some of which are of a larger type than any ever used in the city, are fitted flush against each other. The rear section is built in full style, without allowing an opening where people in the past have sometimes placed their feet. There is no opening between the standards of the adjoining seat, which insures the utmost privacy to each patron.

The chairs have a full deep spring-edge cushion, constructed by super-craftsmen, and are covered with a deep maroon velour. The old-type wooden arm rest is dispensed with, and in its place is a comfortable covered arm pad of green velour. The backs are trimmed with a gold braid.

Atlas Screens

Antoinette

Against the rich background of a reproduction of the magnificent ballroom of the Palace of Versailles, 58 couples, headed by Norma Shearer and Joseph Schildkraut, danced the minut in one of the most colorful and spectacular scenes of "Marie Antoinette," currently attracting crowds to the Atlas Theatre.

Although the huge set measured 250 feet in length and 125 feet in width there was not an over-amount of space for the dancers, due to the fact that the girls wore dresses measuring eight feet in diameter and weighing an average of 50 pounds.

Tyrone Power is co-starred in the picture with Miss Shearer.

Plaza Presents

Amusing Comedy

Patrons at the Plaza Theatre today are amused by the unique complications of a new comedy-romance, "Married Before Breakfast," which came from the studios of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with Robert Young and Florence Rice in the leading roles.

The supporting cast features June Clayworth and Barnett Parker, with an amazing electrical robot that provides much of the comedy.

Edwin L. Marin directed and has introduced an original technique to the screen with his deft comedy touches. Young, who appeared last with William Powell and Luise Rainer in "The Emperor's Candlesticks," performs cleverly in an interesting role. Miss Rice, the daughter of Grant-land Rice, noted newspaper sports writer, again lives up to her reputation as one of Hollywood's most promising young players.

Nothing Sacred

After this marker was chalked up, both teams mixed it up in desperate attempts to further the lead or tie things up.

The Thistles broke through again though, after another 15 minutes, or thereabouts, had passed. Robson did the damage alone this time, taking the ball around Glenn Robins, and letting one go at the goal. The leather hit the post and bounced into the nets.

Saanich held their two-goal lead for the rest of the game, with the City squad trying hard. Dave McMillan refereed, and the line-ups follow:

Saanich Thistles — Webster Biseniden, Burgess, Underwood, Speller, Mowat, Hope, Robson, Oakley, Ono, Alexander, Williams and Crowe.

Victoria City — Chalmers, Barns-well, G. Robbins, Saddler, A. Tre-gellis, Kelman, Murray, J. Robbins, G. Gunnis, Kelman, Murray, J. Robbins, G. Gunnis, C. Saddler, T. Arder and Singh.

Domination Books

"Service De Luxe"

Fast farce comedy, starring Constance Bennett, is "promised in Universal's "Service De Luxe," scheduled to open at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

Of note also will be the initial screen appearance of Vincent Price, New York stage star who is the latest to join the ranks of Hollywood leading men. Price established himself firmly in Broadway theatrical circles by his excellent performance in the role of Prince Albert opposite Helen Hayes during the two-year run of Miss Hayes' play, "Victoria Regina," in New York.

With the two principals will be seen a cast which includes Charles Ruggles, Mischa Auer, Helen Broderick and Joy Hodges in the chief supporting roles.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"Suez," 20th Century-Fox's spectacular story of Ferdinand de Lesseps and the building of the great canal, is now at the Capitol Theatre. Tyrone Power, Loretta Young and Annabella share starring honors in the film into which Darryl F. Zanuck has poured all his production skill. Allan Dwan directed. The story concerns Ferdinand de Lesseps, the builder of the great canal that today is the jugular vein of the world, and the two loves that drove him to the realization of his dream.

WESTS TAKE LEAD

mail's last real close attempt, at the Wests goal.

Morgan came through to put the Wests in the lead, minutes later, and Barnes scored two more in quick succession as the end of the game drew to a close.

Scotty McKay refereed.

Line-ups follow:

Victoria — West-T. Restall, Wright, B. Bell, Smith, C. Restall, R. Barnes, G. Barnes, N. Sage, H. Sage, Morgan and Dallimore, Esquimaux — Hornsby, Moody, Laird, Barnswell, Leggett, Mc-Kay, G. Bell, Halket, Watt, Stewart, Payne and Holt.

THISTLES WIN

The Saanich Thistles-Victoria City game was comparatively even throughout with the sub-urbans making good their opportunities at the City goal.

With the ground slippery and the ball heavy, both squads were not at their best. The defence division of the City line-up was handicapped after about 10 minutes of play, when Barney Barns-well received knee injuries that demanded hospital attention.

The rest of the half passed by with little excitement and no score.

The first goal for the Thistles came after 10 to 15 minutes' play in the second period. Murray Speller, right wing man, booted a nice lateral into the mouth of the goal. Goalie Chalmers made the save, but lost the ball to the nets, when Tony Hope and Gil Hobson made a dive for him.

After this marker was chalked up, both teams mixed it up in desperate attempts to further the lead or tie things up.

The Thistles broke through again though, after another 15 minutes, or thereabouts, had passed. Robson did the damage alone this time, taking the ball around Glenn Robins, and letting one go at the goal. The leather hit the post and bounced into the nets.

Saanich held their two-goal lead for the rest of the game, with the City squad trying hard. Dave McMillan refereed, and the line-ups follow:

Nothing Sacred

At Columbia

Selznick Technicolor
Production Stars
Carole Lombard

"Nothing Sacred," David O. Selznick technicolor production showing at the Columbia Theatre today, co-starring Carole Lombard and Fredric March, is the first color picture in screen history to utilize new specially-invented special equipment which makes possible unusual photography.

Devised by Jack Cosgrave, the color process printer, as it is known technically, makes possible the showing on the screen of several different scenes simultaneously. Trick photography of all kinds is now also available to the technicolor cameras, through the invention.

"To the Victor" Picture of Strong Dramatic Values

"To the Victor," Gaumont film now playing at the Oak Bay Theatre, is a picture for old and young; it will delight the innocent and please even the sophisticated.

What makes the picture outstanding, aside from its unusual background, its delightful love story and its strong dramatic values, is the performance of Will Fyffe, who shares honors with John Loder and Margaret Lockwood, but whose characterization stand out as a magnificent achievement. As McAdam, the wily Scotch shepherd, at odds with his neighbors and all the world, Fyffe, that staunch old vaudevillean, reveals a depth of understanding, and a sense of drama unsuspected by even his oldest admirers.

The Story of Hypnotism

I-MESMER

In the year 1774, an Austrian doctor made a test with magnets. His name was Franz Anton Mesmer, and he was 41 years of age. A young woman, Franzl Oesterlin, wanted him to cure her of the troubles from which she suffered. We are told she had attacks of toothache, earache, and swooning and paralysis.

Mesmer

Mesmer supposed there was a power in iron magnets to cure some kinds of disease. He tied two magnets to her feet, and hung another one around her neck.

In his own story of what happened next, Mesmer says sharp pains shot through the patient's body, and that she perspired freely. Later he gave her other treatments with magnets, and in a few months she was "pronounced well." Five years later, Wolfgang Mozart, famous master of music, saw Franzl Oesterlin in Vienna, and wrote to his father that he was amazed to find her "so fat and healthy."

That event marked the start of a new method of treatment by Mesmer. He cured, or tried to cure, scores of other patients with magnets. His fame spread over Austria and Germany, but he made enemies among the doctors, and was ordered to leave Vienna.

Going to Paris in 1778, Mesmer was at first looked upon as a "wonder-worker," but he did not win the trust of most doctors. He tried to explain how he was able to cure people, but his account was not clear.

Mesmer treated a large number of patients in Paris, and some of them were rich. At length they raised a large sum of money—300,000 louis—for him, and he set up a hospital of a sort.

By this time, Mesmer had given up the idea that iron magnets were needed to cure people. Instead he claimed to use "animal magnetism."

A widely-known French physician, Dr. d'Esion, joined Mesmer and acted as his chief assistant. At the hospital, or clinic, there were darkened rooms. The patients came in and formed a circle, holding hands. Soft music played while Mesmer and d'Esion touched the patients' with long wands. Then the patients went into "convulsions," often weeping, coughing or laughing for two or three hours. In many cases, they seemed to be cured of their illness at the end of the convulsions.

A committee of scientists made a study of "animal magnetism," and then reported they could find no proof that a "magnetic fluid" existed. This report was a heavy blow to Mesmer, but he went on treating patients.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, November 22, 1938. Threatening clouds are discerned today, according to astrology. Owing to the effect of a November eclipse of the Sun adverse aspects are active.

There is a sign of menacing portent for certain heads of government. In Europe Saturn the ruler is to bring retribution to rulers who forget human rights, the seers foretell.

Mars continues to exercise influence which seems to be smothered, but not wholly overcome. The stars presage a period in which nations of the world will pass judgment upon one another.

Where the weak have been sacrificed or overlooked there is to be a rising sense of justice among neutral peoples. International treaties and prevailing laws will be analyzed and certain of them will be altered, it is prognosticated.

Ethiopia is to present new difficulties to the Italian government. Colonial policies will be disappointing and costly. Russia comes under a planetary rule which presages many internal problems, and there is an omen of danger for the neighbors of the Soviet government.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of ups and downs. Enemies may be met in business. Changes of places of residence will be made by many.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly independent and self-willed. They may be unusually talented and imaginative.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been reading in the paper that Dr. Robert G. Foster, the educator, wants housewives to be paid $1,000 a year. He says this would make wives economically independent of their husbands, and keep the husbands from regarding themselves as masters and their wives as servants. I think this is a grand idea, for certainly housewives are the Forgotten Women. Wherever you go you will find the housewife the most tired, shabby, worn-out-looking woman present. Her hair is not fixed. She has not a cent to call her own. She never has a vacation. She has to be on the job 24 hours a day, and then her husband wonders what she does with her time and why she isn't satisfied. So I am all for bonuses for housewives.

Answer: It would certainly be fine and dandy if every housewife had a pocketbook just bulging with $100 bills and nothing to do but buy herself good times. But until some magician arises who can turn the leaves on the trees into money, I fear that your dream can never become a reality.

The woman who is married to a poor man and who has a house full of children will always be the hardest-worked person in the world. She will always have to wrestle with pots and pans and the problem of stretching an insufficient income over his family's needs. She will always have to be up nights with crying babies and have her nerves shattered by noisy youngsters. She will always have to offer herself as a sacrifice on the family altar and nobody will ever appreciate her until she is dead and gone.

It isn't strange that when the housewife looks at her business and professional sisters who have spent their money on their own backs instead of buying little Mary a new coat and Johnny a sweater like the other boys have, and who have taken little Freddy to the dentist instead of going to the beauty shop themselves, they feel that they have got a raw deal in life. But, in reality, they are not so badly off as they think they are.

True, they have no eight-hour day, but they don't have to punch the time clock on the dot and be on their tiptoes all the time. They can let their household tasks slide a bit if they don't feel like doing them, and lie down for an hour or so if they wake up with a sick headache. True, their husbands may be grouchy, fault-finding and unreasonable, but they have a job from which they can't be fired because the boss is cranky. The housewife may feel that it is hard lines to work for her board and clothes, but the business woman seldom has much left over when she has paid for hers.

DOROTHY DIX.

Canada Asked to Take Jews

Thousands of Citizens in Mass Meetings
Says This Country Should Help

By the Canadian Press

Requests that the Dominion do her share to alleviate the plight of Jews in Germany were on their way to Ottawa today from many parts of Canada. There were many pleas that Canada open her doors to refugees.

In unison, with the might of mass behind them, thousands on thousands of Canadians from Halifax to the British Columbia coast gave unanimous endorsement yesterday to protests over Hitler's policies towards his Jewish subjects.

There were a few dissenting voices to the proposal. From Toronto the Canadian Corps Association sent to Prime Minister King a note of its concern over "forced mass immigration." It was suggested Africa might be a more suitable place for settlers. There was no dissent from the expressions of indignation voiced formally by resolution, over conditions that have made the proposed migration from Germany an avenue of refuge for Jewish people there.

Ontario citizens at Kingston, Niagara Falls, Kirkland Lake, Kitchener, London and Toronto heard speakers denounce the persecution.

NEW M.P. SPEAKS

At Kitchener, Karl Homuth, who was elected Conservative member of parliament for Waterloo South last week, said it was not easy for him to attend a meeting of protest over conditions in the land of his fathers. But, said Mr. Homuth, if Canadians did not let Germany know that those who value British freedom stand aghast, it would not be long until Nazi doctrines would spread.

Prominent Ontario persons participating in the meetings included Archbishop M. J. O'Brien of Kingston, Principal Wallace of Queen's University and Sir William Mulock, former chief justice of Ontario, Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenfield of Quebec, presided at a Montreal protest meeting.

The Winnipeg meeting, under the auspices of the League of Nations Society, adopted a resolution calling on the Dominion Government to take such action as might be deemed appropriate to put an end to the tragedy in Germany.

VANCOUVER RESOLUTION

VANCOUVER (CP)—An overflow meeting that jammed the 1,500 seating capacity of a downtown theatre yesterday unanimously endorsed a resolution that an appeal be made to the federal government "to open the door to an appreciable number of Jewish refugees from Nazi Germany."

The meeting, called by the Vancouver Ministerial Association and the Vancouver League of Nations Society, expressed "horror at the barbarous persecution of Jews in Germany," and "heartfelt sympathy" for destitute and homeless Jews.

Brigadier-General Victor W. Odium acted as chairman of the meeting, which drew representatives of church, labor, women's and literary circles. Mayor George Miller was unable to attend, but sent a message of endorsement. Three hundred stood outside and heard proceedings by means of amplifiers.

"We appeal to the government of Canada to put forth its best efforts for the securing of homes for these refugees in various parts of the world," said the resolution.

E. A. Jamieson, president of the Vancouver and New Westminster District Trades and Labor Council, asked the meeting to "go further" and boycott German goods. No action was taken on the suggestion.

Experts Estimate Swing of Trade

Changes in Position
Of Canada, U.S. and Britain Expected

By R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON — Although it is too early to get an accurate survey of the reaction to the United Kingdom-United States and Canada-United States trade agreements signed here last week, trade and tariff experts who have been studying the details for months seem to be generally in agreement that a swing of trade will gain in the United Kingdom markets, partially at the expense of Canadian business there.

These experts figure the United States will cut somewhat into the United Kingdom business in Canada, particularly in textiles, machinery and chemicals.

It is believed the United Kingdom and Canada will gain much more in the United States than they will lose in each other's markets. However, much depends on world economic conditions whether these forecasts materialize.

In their official analysis of the effect of the tariff concessions by the United Kingdom, United States government experts listed many commodities in which the concessions would improve the position of the United States in competition against Canada and other countries for United Kingdom trade. They expect the free entry of United States wheat would improve the export business in that commodity.

APPLE SHIPMENTS

The United States analysts expressed the hope that country would get back some of its apple market in the United Kingdom. Before the Ottawa agreements shifted much of this business to Canada and New Zealand, the United States had a big share of that market. Canadian export opinion, however, is that the preference remaining on Empire apples of from 80 to 90 cents a barrel will be sufficient to hold the apple business they have gained.

The American analysis expects a bigger United Kingdom market for chilled salmon. In the lumber section they expect to gain against Canadian competition, particularly in hardwood flooring and doors.

Lower patent leather duties should improve United States exports to the United Kingdom, but in this commodity it is possible both Canada and the United States will gain at the expense of the British producer.

Five Lose Lives in Palestine Clashes

JERUSALEM (CP-Havas)—A British soldier and four Arabs were killed and a British officer wounded during week-end disorders in the Holy Land. The British casualties occurred in a clash between troops and Moslem bands Saturday night near Tul Karm.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning, and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores, or any druggist, a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.
